The Franklin County Saddle Club would like to offer you the opportunity to advertise at our 15-acre equestrian facility, in our monthly newsletter and on our web site. Your advertising will help support an organization whose mission is to promote the association of horsemen and support youth interest in horsemanship. Advertising is $325 for the first calendar year. Renewals are $125 per calendar year thereafter.

Advertising will consist of the following:

- A 2' X 4' metal sign with your business name, address, phone number, and logo prominently displayed on an arena panel in our main show arena so both exhibitors and spectators can view it during all events and activities. The cost of the sign is included in the first calendar year's payment. Special logos or other lettering must be furnished on your disc; an additional $45 to $85 will apply for any artwork done by the sign company.
- A listing of your name and phone number in our monthly newsletter, and your name and hometown on our website with a link to your website if you have one.

The Franklin County Saddle Club has been an active part of the equine community since 1956. Activities and events at our facility draw hundreds of exhibitors and spectators annually. This broad-based advertising will ensure your business is well represented throughout the year.
